"Pushing the Boundaries of Systems Engineering"

We are delighted to announce that INCOSE UK will hold its Annual Systems Engineering Conference (ASEC), at the new 'The Slate' Conference Centre at Warwick University. This year's theme is focussed on 'pushing the boundaries of Systems Engineering', and we intend to explore:

- Where next for Systems Engineering?
- Growing the Systems Engineering workforce of the future
- Lest we forget, what can we learn from the past?
- Dealing with uncertainty

Who Will Benefit From Taking Part in ASEC 2017?

- Those involved in the resolution of complex socio-technical systems problems and who want to find out how Systems Engineering can be of use to them
- Organisations looking for innovative solutions to Systems Engineering problems, or wishing to showcase their Systems Engineering expertise
- Practitioners needing to keep up-to-date with the latest developments in Systems Engineering or wanting to participate actively in the evolution of the discipline
- Academics, researchers and students, who will have the opportunity to showcase their research activities and research group through the poster sessions – funding opportunities are available
- Systems Engineers who want to meet and network with other like-minded professionals

ASEC 2017 will contribute towards the continuing professional development of all those attending.

Exhibition Hall

Engage with fellow Systems Engineering professionals over tea and coffee and meet some of our exhibitors. Some of the top Systems Engineering organisations present their products and services, alongside a set of research posters that show off the latest Systems Engineering research.

Key Note Presentations

As always, we have two excellent key note sessions, brought to you by world-leaders in Systems Engineering.

See our website: www.ASEC2017.org.uk for more information.

INCOSE UK Limited is registered in England under no. 3641046.
Registered address: The Dyers Building, 21 Silver Street, Ilminster, Somerset, TA19 0DH, UK

ASEC 2017 Programme Overview

This year we have made further changes to freshen up the programme:

■ The 'Systems Summit', where various Professional Bodies discuss the future of Systems Engineering

■ 4 x 45 minute sessions for Working Groups to use for briefings, meetings or workshops

■ A 'Fringe' session providing an informal space in the programme

■ 'Posters that talk', a brief overview of all the posters presented in the coffee area.

As always, the conference dinner will provide an unparalleled opportunity to meet and network with other delegates, and will feature an after-dinner speaker, along with a surprise or two!

Visit www.ASEC2017.org.uk for further information as the programme develops.

Venue

We have visited Warwick before, but not like this! This year we are delighted to be holding our ASEC at the brand new Slate Conference Centre at Warwick University. Bigger, better, more facilities and the outstanding service that we have come to expect from this world-class location.

The Slate Conference Centre, University of Warwick, Coventry, CV4 7AL, UK.

Associate or Certified Systems Engineering Professionals (ASEPs or CSEPs)

INCOSE Associate or Certified Systems Engineering Professionals will receive 1 PDU (Professional Development Unit) for every hour they attend the conference (totalling 8 PDUs per day). Furthermore, for ASEPs or CSEPs who are not currently members, joining INCOSE UK when registering for ASEC 2017 will earn an additional 5 PDUs for your year of membership.

About INCOSE

The International Council of Systems Engineering (INCOSE) is a not-for-profit membership organisation founded to develop, disseminate and advance Systems Engineering. There are around 10,000 members worldwide.

INCOSE UK was formed in 1994 and is highly active, currently having around 1,000 members. INCOSE UK is supported by the UK Advisory Board (UKAB) comprising nearly 40 world-class UK organisations drawn from industry, government and academia.
